

2021 Junior Warden Report

This past year we replaced the roof of the rectory.

We painted the lower metal roof on the church and better secured the space where the shingle roof and metal roof meet.

Ernie Drown and friends did a beautiful job painting the rear entrance stairway

Leo Martineau has bought us out of the dark with, I believe, every light now working in the church. He is also instrumental in getting the electrical work done for the organ.

We had a major clean up of the church and office area by an outside cleaning service and now have a nice young couple cleaning the church every other week when we are in church or have groups coming into the church.

Our furnace water expansion tank failed and Earl discovered the problem within minutes so we are very lucky major damage was not done by leaking water. Hopefully the new tank will be installed before our annual meeting.

When I was soliciting bids to clean the church, one of the of the potential contractors asked if the church had been abandoned when we were doing the walk around. I took it personally. He even had come in after Ernie Drown and crew had done the painting. It was a point of reference for me. Since that point we have come back strong. The inside has a lot of its function back and the outside grounds this year have sent a great message that we are here and open for business.

Many thanks to everyone for their commitment and work, we have come a long way!

We have punky wood at the church and rectory so there is still much to do.

Submitted by Bill Crowther